TORRENTIAL RAIN CAUSES HAVOC IN EUROPE.

CONTINENT SWEEPED BY VIOLENT GALE.

TRAGIC BELGIAN FLOOD SCENES.

ENGLAND SUFFERS.

PRACTICALLY every country in Western Europe has suffered serious damage from a terrible gale and rainstorm, which swept in from the Atlantic over the British Isles yesterday, and continued its wild career over France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and Germany, leaving much devastation in its wake.

Shocking tragedies have occurred in Belgium where peasants have been driven from their homes by floods, pitiful scenes being witnessed in the areas.

London, Nov. 23.

A fierce gale accompanied by torrential rain swept Great Britain and the Continent during the week-end, the wind reaching high velocities in terrific gusts.

Thames in Flood.

A seventy-eight miles an hour gale was recorded at Birmingham, trees were blown down in many parts of Britain, and high tide in the Thames inundated the towing path at Putney; in consequence of the tremendous flood waters.

The Channel, as usual in such storms, was the scene of many exciting incidents. Numerous ships were reported to be in distress, and life-boats at different points along the coast carried out a number of thrilling rescues.—Reuters.

Berne, Nov. 23.

Reports of the effects of the extremely violent storm which struck the north of Switzerland during the week-end, show that considerable damage has been done. At Lucy, where telegraph and telephone wires have been blown down, communication is interrupted.—Reuters.

Floods in France.

Paris, Nov. 23.

The violent tempest in the Channel, and along the French Atlantic coast has caused considerable damage by flooding, and a very similar state of affairs is reported from Belgium, a message from Brussels announcing serious floods at Termonde, Antwerp, Lier and Duffel.

The storm is still raging in Belgium. There have been no casualties hitherto.—Reuters.

Man Killed By Door.

Vienna, Nov. 23.

One man was killed here to-day when the violent storm which struck Europe this weekend blew down a door. There were numerous minor casualties in the gale.—Reuters.

Brussels, Nov. 23.

The floods in the Termonde district have created a terrible scene of desolation, recalling the horrors of the Great War.

Fugitive Peasants.

In the falling dusk, struggling processions of peasants and their families were to be seen driving their livestock and carrying all portable property from their threatened homes, which they were forced to abandon.

Many villages have already been evacuated, and the fugitives in some places are wading knee-deep in flood water, carrying pitifully crying children on their shoulders.—Reuters.

German Damage.

Berlin, Nov. 23.

The violent gale has done damage, estimated at over a million marks in South Germany. Houses have had their roofs torn off and in several towns the railways and telephone services have been interrupted.—Reuters.

BEHIND THE SCENE AT MOSCOW.

REVOLUTION AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT DENIED.

A LEADERS' SQUABBLE.

Berlin, Nov. 23. Widespread rumours that have been in circulation recently alleging that a revolt against the Soviet Government is in progress in Russia, are refuted by the Moscow correspondent of the Lokoten Zevre, who has just arrived in Berlin.

He says that there has been no revolution, but the trouble which has been existing behind the scenes of the Communist Party for some time reached its climax at the Party's annual congress.

The result of this "insurrection in the Party" was at least a temporary compromise between the Opposition and M. Stalin's supporters, which virtually was a defeat for the proponents of the cause.

FATHER ON WAY HOME.

London, Nov. 24. Three children of Marine Aspin, of H.M.S. Cornwall, of the China Station, have died from suffocation as the result of a fire which broke out in the cottage in which they were living near Truro, Cornwall.

The victims were named Phyllis Mary (aged 8), Ernest Arthur (aged 6) and Hazel Jean (aged 4).

The mother was out shopping when the fire broke out.

Marine Aspin is at present on his way home from the East aboard H.M.S. Cornwall. Reuters.

The correspondent emphasises that the struggle within the Communist Party is for control and the Opposition is not at all interested in the defeat of the Bolshevik regime.

It may be recalled that a few days ago, the arrest of General Blücher-Galen and other prominent "Reds" was reported, on account, it was stated, of the discovery of an anti-Stalin conspiracy. Reuters.

SIX-HOUR DAY BUT NO WAGE CUT.

DEMAND OF RAILWAYMEN IN AMERICA.

Chicago, Nov. 23. The principle of the six-hour day, with no reduction of the daily wage rates, was endorsed at a meeting of seven hundred representatives of the Big Four railway brotherhoods in America, which are drawing up a programme to alleviate unemployment among 375,000 members of the Unions.

No method of carrying out the principle was adopted.

The train-men, stokers and switchmen insisted that the shorter hours begin immediately, but the conductors and engineers held that they should await the conference to be called by President Hoover.—Reuters American Service.

PRISON OUTRAGE DESCRIBED.

WOUNDED WARDER'S EVIDENCE.

FREQUENT INTERRUPTIONS BY ACCUSED MAN.

THREAT TO KILL.

The recent attack on Acting Principal Warder Bert Plumb at Victoria Gaol by a prisoner, alleged to be Chiu Sui-chung, was described at the commencement of the Police Court hearing before Mr. Williams this morning. A. P. W. Plumb, upon his recovery from serious stab wounds, was able to give evidence, the accused interposing with frequent queries as to why he should have stabbed him. His Worship remarked that if accused had any statement to make concerning the point, he could make it at the proper time.

The first witness called was Mr. J. H. Longbottom, Chief Draughtsman at the P.W.O.D., who produced copies of plans made of the main hall of Victoria Gaol, where the attack took place.

Victim's Evidence.

Acting Principal Warder Bert Plumb deposed that on the day in question he went on duty at 9.15 a.m. About an hour later, he called to Pala Singh, an assistant warder, to take Prisoner 1614 (the accused) from his cell.

Here the accused interposed with a question as to why he should have been taken from his cell.

Mr. Williams advised accused to listen carefully and make a note of what he wished to put in interrogation to witness when the latter had finished his evidence. If accused had any objection in the way of statements, he could make them later on at the proper time.

The mother was out shopping when the fire broke out.

Marine Aspin is at present on his way home from the East aboard H.M.S. Cornwall. Reuters.

AUDACIOUS LOCAL BURGLAR.

SITS DOWN TO MEAL BEFORE LEAVING HOUSE.

EVENT NEW TO ASIA.

Almost unparalleled audacity was exhibited by a burglar who broke into Sookumboo Villas during the early hours of the morning of November 5. After collecting together a large quantity of clothing he sat down to a good meal before decamping.

The man appeared before Mr. Lindsell at the Central Police Court this morning on charges of burglary at No. 2, Sookumboo Villas, where he stole 23 articles of clothing valued at $68, the property of Mr. Chin Sing-fong, an architect, and of laundry of a quantity of electric wiring from No. 1, Sookumboo Villas, the residence of Mr. M. P. Plankoff, head baker of Messrs. Lane Crawford's bakery in Wan-chai. The defendant pleaded guilty to both counts.

Detective Sergeant Lamont informed his Worship that defendant, after climbing through a barbed wire fence broke a small padlock on the bath room door, and from there gained admission to other parts of the house. From the bedroom he collected 26 articles of clothing and before leaving he had the audacity to sit down to a good meal.

His Worship:—I heard of that happening in Europe but not in Asia before.

In respect of the wire taken from Mr. Plankoff, it was stated that it was lying loose in preparation for the robbing of the premises.

The defendant was given four months' hard labour for burglary and a further two months' for larceny.

FIVE SUCCUMB TO FISH POISONING.

ONLY TWO CREW OF SEVEN SURVIVE.

Practically the entire crew of a fishing boat at Shatifikok succumbed to fish poisoning following a meal on November 14 last, a belated report to this effect being made to Police Headquarters over the weekend.

The master of the boat, Chan Ki, stated that his crew, consisting of five men and two women, all of whom lived on the boat, had a meal of fish on the morning of November 14 last, and as a result, five of the number died from poisoning.

Chan Shuen-yuk, aged 50, the first to show any signs of ill-health soon died, while during the course of the day four others passed away, including the two women.

One boy showed signs of suffering from poisoning but later recovered.

SMOKE NUISANCE AT GLOUCESTER BLDG.

MATTER TO COME BEFORE THE SANITARY BOARD.

At to-morrow's meeting of the Sanitary Board, Mr. Wong Kwong-tin, pursuant to notice, will ask:

Has the attention of the Head of the Sanitary Department been drawn to the smoke nuisance from the hoisting gear on the site known as Gloucester Building under construction at the junction of Des Vieux Road and Pedder Street?

"I felt myself weakening," said Mr. Plumb, "so I went to the hospital."

Replying to the Magistrate, he said that he walked to the hospital unassisted. The distance was roughly 30 yards, in traversing which he had to negotiate a number of steps.

Detective Inspector Shannon (appearing for the police):—Were there other people in the main hall?

Witness replied that besides the two Indian warders there were between 20 and 30 other prisoners who were quartered there for medical inspection and for interviews with the Superintendent of the Prison. They were those who had complained of feeling sick and those who were to see the Superintendent in consequence of reports against them.

Inspector Shannon:—They are classified as the sick and punishment parades, your Worship.

SIR CHARLES ADDIS ON TARIFFS.

DENOUNCES PROPOSALS FOR FISCAL CHANGE.

HONGKONG BANKER.

An important pronouncement on tariffs comes from Sir Charles Stewart Addis, a director of the Bank of England, and chairman of the London committee, Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation.

Part of the so-called Empire Free Trade policy is to bring in the Crown Colonies. Sir Charles Addis, who has had vast experience in Crown Colonies, particularly Hongkong, speaks with some authority.

Addressing the Edinburgh Chamber of Commerce Sir Charles said that unless Protection meant higher prices it had no meaning.

He added:

Free Trade still holds the field as the recognised fiscal policy of this country, and the burden of proof lies upon those who propose any departure from it.

STILL GREATEST TRADING COUNTRY.

Britain is still the greatest trading country of the world, and even last year British exports per head of the population were more than twice as much as those of either France or the United States. That is a post-war record of which any country might be proud.

HONGKONG WEDDING.

FORMER RADIO ANNOUNCER MARRIED.

A pretty wedding was solemnised at St. John's Cathedral on Saturday afternoon, when Miss Kathleen Margaret Burrage, the eldest daughter of Mr. Charles Burrage of Devonport, England, became the bride of Mr. Arthur E. E. Jeffries, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jeffries of Blackheath, Kent, and formerly announced at the local Broadcasting Studio.

The Very Rev. Dean Alfred Swann, M.A., officiated while Mr. C. Dudley Bartlett played appropriate music at the organ. The bride was given away by Mr. W. J. Shenton and wore a white silk lace and net embroidered gown with beautifully embroidered veil of tulle and headress of orange blossom. Her bouquet was of white roses and maidenhair fern. Miss Patricia Hynes attended the bride as bridesmaid and was attired in a shell pink georgette frock of ankle length with a silver leaf headress and a bouquet of pink gladioli and maidenhair fern.

Master Michael Hynes, who wore a suit of white velvet, was page, while Mrs. C. D. Bartlett was matron of honour, her dress being of printed crepe de chine in autumn shades, with a bouquet of African violets.

Mr. Ian D. Lenox was best man. A reception was subsequently held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. Hynes, after which Mr. and Mrs. Jeffries left for Repulse Bay, where the honeymoon is being spent. The bride's going away dress was an ensemble in green speckled tweed finished with grey fur, and pearl grey crepe de chine blouse with shoes and stockings to match and a green fur hat.

MOTOR MISHAP.

A YOUNG PORTUGUESE DIES OF INJURIES.

A tragic mishap occurred to a young Portuguese motor cyclist, whilst he was riding in the New Territories yesterday morning, when he lost control of his machine through a skid, near Fanling, and crashed, sustaining injuries from which he died immediately after the accident.

From the meagre details available last night, it would seem that the young man, Mr. R. A. Resario, whose parents reside at No. 5, Chatham Road, Kowloon, was cycling along the road near the Wo Hop Shek Village, about two miles from the Fanling railway station, with a million rider. He seems to have been rounding a bend when he lost temporary control through his machine skidding. He was thrown violently to the ground, and when picked up he was beyond the assistance of the million rider, who was not badly hurt.

Mr. W. Sanderson, of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co., Ltd., was the first to pass the scene, and after rendering what assistance he could by telephoning the Police, who immediately went out and had the deceased removed to the Kowloon Mortuary.

Much sympathy will be felt for the parents and other relatives of the unfortunate young man, who was employed as a clerk at the Netherlands India Commercial Bank. He was only 22 years of age, and was a keen motor cyclist. Arrangements have been made for the funeral to take place this afternoon, passing the Monument at 5.30.

THE FUTURE OF INDIA.

COMMITTEE BEGINS ITS WORK TO-DAY.

London, Nov. 22. The Indian Round Table Conference will begin its real work on Monday, when the first meeting of the Federal Relations Committee will sit about the task of translating the general agreement which emerged from the five days plenary session into practical proposals for submission, first to the Conference and ultimately to Parliament.

A hopeful view of the prospects is taken by the press. The Times comments on the remarkable unanimity shown in the speeches. "Perhaps the most hopeful impression left by the debate is that it has at least placed the abstract conceptions of the States and Federation in their proper order. Status is coming to be recognized as a matter of achievement not of gift, a coping stone, and the consequence of capacity for self-government rather than the first stage in framing a constitution. There can be no progress in the discussion of any committee over details till the broad outlines of the structure are settled. Sceptics are asking already how long the great ideal of these last few days will survive the next stages of the Conference, for, whatever else it may imply, there is no doubt that Federation does mean definite merits on part of all its members. The appointment of a vast committee on Federal Relations may, however, be heralded for the moment as a welcome sign that the new idea predominates".

The Times records two personal impressions of the long discussion. Firstly the spontaneous and prolonged applause which greeted every mention of Vice-Admiral Lord Irwin, and secondly that the Prime Minister proved himself a tactful, sympathetic and infinitely patient Chairman.

The Morning Post, while not undervaluing the power of words, says the "Problems of defence of frontiers, maintenance of law and order, rights of minorities, and the protection of British interests remain. The Federal proposal has at least the advantage of bringing in the Princes, who are a stable and conservative element, but everything depends on the manner in which the principle is applied and whether it can be reconciled with those things which the Simon Commission rightly held essential.

The Manchester Guardian says that British policy in India since the war has been entirely consistent and with sincerity declared its firm intention India should enjoy complete self-government within Empire, reaching ultimate aim by stages. Events have shown a "Conflict between the British view, based on necessity for gradualness and Indian demand for all or nothing. The offer of the Indian Princes to come at once into All-India Federation has ended this conflict, because they will introduce into the legislature an element of balance, racial, religious and political. The Princes, however, will assuredly make conditions for minority communities and will demand safeguards. The British Government will require some measure of control over the army and of foreign affairs for time being. The British Indian delegates have very definite ideas as to what constitutes democratic institutions. But these difficulties are adjustable and it is for the committee to adjust them."

The Daily Herald says that the Indian demand is pliantly plain and it is for the committee to discuss, not whether, but how India is to have full self-government. It is a supremely difficult but not an insuperable task.—British Wireless.

FAREWELL CONCERT.

TALENTED PERFORMERS AT ST. PATRICK'S CLUB.

A thoroughly delightful concert will be given at St. Patrick's Club on Saturday night, as a farewell to the Somerset Light Infantry, who are leaving the Colony shortly.

The popularity of this Regiment was evidenced by the large gathering which attended the concert. In a farewell speech, the Rev. Fr. Bliganti, President of the Club, thanked Mrs. O'Hara, who is going away with the Regiment, for the help which she had rendered the Club at the various socials and entertainments during her stay in the Colony. He said that they would not forget all those who were going away, and wished them bon voyage and all happiness and success in their new sphere of activity.

Over twenty items were on the programme for the concert, which, with the repeated encores, lasted well into the night. A piano solo, "Mignonne" by Mr. Turner, rendered with expression which awakened old memories, was much appreciated by the audience. This was followed by two songs by Mr. Dixon, "My Old Shako," and "Beside an Open Fireplace," which came in for hearty rounds of applause. Miss S. Hyndman was heard to advantage in two songs, "You're Always in my Dreams" and "The Pagan Love Song," rendered in a mellow voice and loudly appreciated.

Perhaps, the tit-bits of the evening were the violin solos by Mr. Abraham. His skillful rendering of two difficult pieces, at which he was accompanied at the piano by Fr. Bliganti, mark him as one of the most talented violinists in the Colony. The Misses D. and P. Hunt were next heard in a song "Keep Your Sunny Side Up," which they concluded with a clever exhibition of step dancing. Two more songs rendered by Mr. Thomas received their just appreciation.

Another excellent number were the two comic songs rendered by Mr. Harrison, who, in the role of "Iza the Charwoman" sent the audience into roars of laughter. The Medway Glee Party also deserve a word of praise for their extremely pleasant singing, the first song being one of a sentimental nature and the second a humorous one.

The Hawaiian Serenaders were a decided "hit" with their dreamy Hawaiian croonings. They were encored repeatedly and obliged with a number of items.

An amusing sketch by Bransby & Co., entitled "A Sister to Assist Her," was the chief feature of the second half. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem concluded the evening's function.

"THEY ALWAYS KEEP ME FIT."

(RECOMMENDATION FROM A NURSING SISTER)

Let them
Same
For You

WHETHER your occupation be as arduous as that of a nurse, or easy, there are times when vitality runs low. Low vitality is a result of anaemia, (impaired blood) which may arise from various causes. The early symptoms are headaches, lack of energy, "nerves," indigestion and general debilitated, run-down feeling, but if a remedy is not soon found the more serious conditions of anaemia rapidly develop.

Nervous exhaustion, prostration, acute dyspepsia, rheumatism and rheumatism are serious consequences of neglected anaemia. Therefore do not delay if you feel out-of-sorts but start building up your blood at once. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a scientific preparation, a successfully prescribed combination discovered by an M.D. of Edinburgh University which both enriches and purifies the bloodstream by enabling it to absorb large quantities of life-giving oxygen. That is the secret of their wonderful world-wide success over a period of nearly fifty years. Chemists everywhere can supply you, so start a course to-day and set your feet on the road to renewed health and happiness.

CINEMA NOTES.

"LADY OF SCANDAL" TO BE SHOWN SOON.

Cecil B. De Mille's famous bathtub have a formidable rival in a bathtub used by Sidney Franklin, who directed Ruth Chatterton in "The Lady of Scandal," ultra-smart drama of British society, which will come on Wednesday in the Queen's Theatre.

In the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture Franklin obtained the most elaborate bathtub ever built, and used it for a comedy sequence with Fred Kerr, British actor. The elaborate design of the bathtub, he decided, would heighten the comedy situation of Kerr singing in it.

The affair is carved from a solid block of brown marble, sculptured with statuettes and reliefs, and weighs more than a ton. It had been built for a millionaire's mansion in Beverly Hills, but Franklin borrowed it for the picture before it was installed in the new home.

The "Million Dollar Tub" is one of many elaborate details in the new picture, which was adapted from the famous stage hit by Frederick Lonsdale, author of "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney." It is a romcom of an actress who upsets aristocratic society in a hilarious plot.

Basil Rathbone plays the principal male role and the cast includes Ralph Forbes, Nance O'Neill, Fred Kerr, MacKenzie Ward, Robert Bolder, Cyril Chadwick, Nelle Ellisor, Moon Carrell and Edgar Norton.

"The Wild Party."

"When better whumped is made Clara will make it right well have been the motto of the Paramount stars of Miss Bow's latest confection of screen, "The Wild Party," which opened at the Central Theatre on Saturday.

The story of "The Wild Party" from one written by Warner Fabian, calls for youth's maddest flaunting of the conventions, and the action reaches many a crescendo pitch as Clara and her mates have the wild, unbridled flings in night clubs and at weekend parties.

Fredric March furnishes the heroic male appeal in the play, carrying off the role of a college professor with a delightful intelligence. He is dark-haired and handsome, and his directors did well to choose him as the lover.

A dazzling group of "baby stars" supports the inimitable Clara in true "hey-hey" style, furnishing an "It" complement that rounds out the film.

"With Byrd at South Pole."

The story of Admiral Richard Byrd's adventures in the uncharted, icebound regions of the Antarctic has been thrillingly dramatized on the audible screen by Paramount. In order to film Byrd's outstanding modern adventure, Paramount, two years ago, commissioned the well known cameramen, Willard Van der Veer and Joseph Barker, to go along as members of Byrd's party and photograph this dramatic story of man's courageous fight against the almost insurmountable forces of nature.

The result of Paramount's efforts is the moving picture, "With Byrd At The South Pole," so entertaining. Much of the humour, and there is a goodly portion of folly, is supplied by the dignified, portly, white-cested Penguin who, knowing no fear, bobs up with the explorers. Only Iben, Byrd's pet fox terrier, feels the Penguins are taking too much for granted and takes it upon herself to teach one of them a lesson. But the Penguin proves to be a good fighter and soon holds his own with the impetuous dog. Attention too is focused on the Husky dogs who draw the sleds over hundreds of ice-covered miles. In particular there is the tragedy of Spec, Husky team leader, who, in an unusual fashion, insists in taking his place in front of the team. He is unable to do so, and Gough, the scientist, is compelled to cut short out of his interest.

During the last two reels, which reveal Byrd in his now historic flight over the South Pole, the voice of Floyd Gibbons, radio favourite, will be heard, giving a detailed description of the flight, in that imitative, raucous, highly dramatic style of his which is so well known to all radio fans.

CHINA'S PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT.

One of the subjects which recently came before the plenary session of the Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang was a bold proposal sponsored, among others, by General Chan Ming-shu and Mr. Hu Han-min, for the abolition of the provincial divisions and the substitution for them of the old Tao, or circuit, as the administrative unit. The suggestion, however, was not immediately acted upon, for the conference reached the decision that as the issue was one involving the whole provincial structure, it was too important a matter to be decided hastily. As a result, it was decided to refer the recommendation to the Central Political Council which will instruct a special committee to deliberate on the whole problem of abolishing the committee system in Provincial Governments. If the Central Political Council considers its abolition advisable, then it will seek final sanction from the Fourth Kuomintang Congress which will be held some time later in the year.

The proposal is of interest as it brings into prominence what has been the problem of successive meetings of the Committee, the problem of centralisation. Differences on this fundamental question in the old days wrecked the harmony between the late Dr. Sun and Chan Kwing-ming. The Kuomintang has never had use for the latter's scheme of provincial development, and a loose federation under a limited Central Government. It has, however, so far failed to curb the strong separatist feelings of the provinces, and the tendency of provincial Governments to consider themselves units which rather consulted with the Central Government than accepted its directions. The present is indeed the most favourable time that there has been since the establishment of the Government at Nanking to carry through a reform which would draw the provinces into the circle of direct central control, and it is significant that one of the sponsors of the proposal is the head of the Civil Government of Kwangtung province, where hitherto local independence has been pronounced. It is impossible for the onlooker at this stage to know how the aims of the Central Government can be reconciled with the semi-independence of Chang Hauchiang, and the Three Eastern Provinces under his control, however it may be able to arrange for the government of his now wide sphere of influence of China Proper. But so far as the territory over which Nanking control is undisputed is concerned, there seems to be no doubt that experience justifies the proposed new departure and that it is within the bounds of practical politics. Will it be feasible? Doubtless it will raise considerable sentimental opposition, and objections based on more concrete reasons will easily occur to those whose interests in the various provincial centres are affected. But the main thing is to gather, as is being done, the chief figures in the provinces into the central machine at Nanking and so remove the possible effective centre of disturbance. If the reform were effected, the old provincial names would doubtless retain something of their glamour, as the ancient divisions of France are still more easily remembered than any of its many departments. But the reduction of the big administrative divisions to the Tao and the Hsien would enormously facilitate the government of the country and enable the writ of Nanking to run with something like smoothness.

No such big reform could be carried through in a day. Three things at least would seem to be necessary. The first of these, the elimination of the powerful provincial feudal lords, is well under way. The second, the subordination of the local Kuomintang organisations to the control of the Government, is evidently contemplated, as we may judge from the recent speeches of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek. The third would be the development of an efficient civil service. The Government already have this matter in hand. The proposal now before it contemplates the reduction of the political element in the organ of government in the resuscitated Tao. The "committee system," legacy of the Russian influence, is to go, and the new officers are to be directly appointed by and responsible to Nanking. Regulations were put out during the year for the training and examination of District Magistrates, from whose ranks we may suppose the new Intendants would be appointed. And if we read through the excellent report on the finances of the Government which Mr. Soong published earlier in the year, we find constant references to the efficiency of the Customs Service and the value which it has as a model of the civil service.

With any reform in the appointment of officials would have to come, if it were to be effective, an examination of the question of their pay, and a clearer division between what were public and what private charges on the purse of the office-holder. At present officials are expected from their remuneration to pay all their underlings, and as their offices are bought they have, in addition to re-couping themselves for their initial expenditure also to find enough money for these charges. Their pay is altogether on too small a scale to meet the charges, and illegal raising of funds, with gross corruption, is inevitable. The two problems go together. It is not possible to eliminate corruption until pay is higher, and charges which are really public should go to public funds, private remuneration being fixed and free from extraneous demands. These are problems which at too close sight might seem difficult to tackle, but which the history of democracy shows to be far from impossible of solution.

There was a crowded attendance at the Theatre Royal on Saturday night, when the A.D.C. gave their final performance of "The Middle Watch." All the principals were in fine form, and the show went with a delightful sparkle from beginning to end. At the conclusion, the players appeared before the footlights and the stage was soon littered with floral and other tributes sent up to the members of the cast.

LADY TEIGNMOUTH tells

THINGS WOMEN DON'T TELL MEN—AND WHY.

WHAT Women Don't Tell Men!"

Judging by some of the conversations one hears nowadays, it might be more appropriate to say, "What don't women tell men?" However, the modern frankness on subjects formerly tabooed between the sexes has not radically altered our individual reticences, and one may still venture to generalise—with due caution—on some of the more obvious of the reserves which remain.

To begin with it must be clearly understood that men and husbands come into completely different categories—and the perfect wife and perfect husband into one of their own very own—to be dealt with last in this article out of common humanity to the poor reader who is neither, and who might be found drowned in floods of envy and bitterness when the extent of the loss was fully realised.

How Old Are You?

Starting with the subjects on which women are traditionally secretive, age will always be a tender point. I fancy, though less so now than of yore; but it still takes a very strong-minded ingenue not to pretend she is younger than seventeen—whereas the "roaring forties" seem more alarming than a den of lions to the average woman of thirty-nine, especially if she is unlucky enough not to have discovered and settled into her appointed niche in life before then.

Refusal to own up, however, does not always protect the secret. I myself once met at a party an elderly man who openly declared he could tell any woman's age by the lines on her neck—and promptly proceeded to do so, with amazing accuracy and rapidly increasing unpopularity. Luckily, this uncanny gift is not often met with, or new frocks would sprout high collars and tip-pets be never out of fashion.

What Is Your Weight?

Another true yarn is that of a certain lady of title, who is a grandmother, and also a noted rider to hounds. Having just cleared a five-barred gate, she overheard a horsey stranger remark: "That's a great jump for a woman of her age." "What do you know about my age, sir?" she asked angrily. "My lady, you are in the book," was the perfectly respectful and equally incontrovertible reply.

Weight is another very delicate topic, and woe betide the swain who offers to while away the time at the station by weighing his buxom beloved. Even if he succeeds in coaxing her to stand on the machine she will say: "Darling, don't waste your penny. These machines are always wrong."

Time was when make-up, subtly used where nature fell short, was a jealously guarded secret. What a change is here! Nevertheless, there are many men still extant who hate it, and not necessarily old men either.

Women set a very high value on men's good opinion, quite apart from sex attraction, and to destroy it deliberately is a test of candour which very few can bring themselves to pass.

Housekeeping "Expenses."

After marriage a new set of problems arises, but it is up to the husband to deserve his wife's full confidence. If he is stingy and irritable he cannot expect to be told that some of the housekeeping money was lost at bridge, or the real price of the simple little frock in which he tells her she looks delightful, as it seems to him it cannot have cost much, though a feminine eye Parls model is obvious in every line of it.

It is his own fault if his jealous wife drives his wife into concealing from him her natural pleasure in other men's society. A man often quite enjoys getting into a temper, and feels better after it, and does not grasp at all that what he thinks of as a "good row" is agony to a woman while it lasts, and leaves an ache that lasts some time.

A nervous woman will do almost anything to avoid one, and the blameless grocer little knows how often he is made the scapegoat of wives who have forgotten to order their lord's sausages or favourite cheese.

Do You Tell All?

The tactful wife often provides him with some of the spicy gossip which all men love at heart—but she carefully avoids telling him anything that should not be retailed with embellishments over short drinks at his club.

One most desirable accomplishment is to be able to laugh convincingly every time he tells his pet story—regardless of the fact she is sick to death of it, and feels she could scream when her instinct precludes him from telling it again.

I fondly imagined I should find a great deal to say when I reached the perfect couple, but, as the perfect husband never flies into rages or complaints of the bills, or repeats his stories, or cuts off his son with a shilling, or threatens to turn his pretty daughter out of the house, it is obvious that his perfect wife can tell him everything. And were such perfection humanly possible, what an amazingly unfeeling couple they would be.

"Believe me, I always keep my husband guessing. It doesn't pay to let them be so sure of you."

WELCOME CONCERT TO BORDERERS.

HAPPY EVENING AT THE CHEER' O Y.M.C.A.

A highly successful "welcome concert" to the 1st Batt. South Wales Borderers was given by local artists at the Cheer' O Y.M.C.A. last night, a packed hall displaying its appreciation and enthusiasm of the excellent programme by a demand for many encores, and hearty community singing.

The audience were given plenty of variety, and their acknowledgement of the artists' talents was both sincere and encouraging.

The Misses Aileen and Doris Woods gave five of their best repertory numbers, and their invitation to the audience to join in the second choruses met with a fine response.

Mr. G. W. E. True, whose appearance on local concert programme is always eagerly anticipated, delighted with some typical syncopated melody from the Chinese Company, and of the Flying Squad who have not yet passed Part 2 of Training Course should attend.

PRISON OUTRAGE DESCRIBED.

Fitness for Flogging.

Warder Plumb explained that it was a routine matter every morning, with having on various dates between September 29th and October 19th, with intent to defraud, attempted to obtain from Liu Shun-him, a licensed hawker, the sum of $30, by false pretences.

The alleged false pretence was that accused was said to have informed Liu that he was authorised by Police Sergeant Thorpe, officer in charge of the Hawks' Department, to collect the sum named on the latter's behalf, and that the payment of this money would have the effect of influencing Sergeant Thorpe in showing partiality towards Liu in the conduct of his business as a licensed hawker; and, further, that he told Liu that it was through the help of Sergeant Thorpe that he had had his licence renewed. All these statements were described as being false.

A week's remand was granted on bail of $500.

Why the Flogging?

Asked if he had any questions to put to witness, the accused replied:—"For what reason was I to be flogged at all?"

Witness:—By order of the Superintendent of Prisons.

Mr. Williams:—Was it punishment ordered by the Magistrate? Chief Warder McLeod:—No, sir; by the Superintendent of Prisons.

Mr. Williams:—Was it punishment ordered by the Magistrate? (to accused):—The Superintendent will be called this afternoon. You can ask him that question when he appears. The witness was acting on instructions.

MAKING SURE OF MONEY.

ROBBERS' WHEEZE TO MAKE HAUL POSSIBLE.

An unusual plan to ensure that their victim had a certain amount of money on him was carried out by three robbers who relieved a shop koki of a sum of $6.50 and fifty catties of rice, valued at $3.50.

One of the men went to a shop at 13, Argyle Street, Kowloon, and after ordering fifty catties of rice, requested that it be delivered to his house at 3, Hon Lok Street where he would pay for the purchase. He intimated, however, that he only had a $10 note at his house and asked that the cookie be given the necessary change, the rice being worth $3.50.

On arrival at 3, Hon Street, the shop cookie was taken to the first floor where he met two other men and there robbed of the money and the rice. One of the men was stated to have produced a revolver with which he threatened the cookie.

The Kowloon C. C. seconds entered the Argylls, the match ending in a draw. The hosts scored 163 (G. A. V. Hall 49) while the military team replied with 101 for five wickets (Lieut. Dewar Durio 30 and L/C Robson 27 not out).

The Club de Recreio beat the Craigengower C. C. at King's Park by seven wickets, after dismissing the visitors for 99 runs. G. A. Gutierrez took four wickets for five runs. The Recreio innings yielded 167 for five wickets. F. J. Remedios retired after scoring 56.

In a low scoring match the R.A.S.C. beat the Royal Corps of Signals by three wickets. The losers could only put up a total of 49 runs, Fry taking three wickets for eleven runs and Simpson three for twelve. The R. A. S. C. team reached 61 runs. Williamson took four wickets for 33 runs; Johnson three for 13 and Andrews two for four.

On Friday these two teams met at Sookunpo, the match ending in a draw. The R. A. S. C. bat first but made a bad start. Fry, however, contributed 68 in short time and with Pamplin also reaching the half century mark, the total reached 106. With their score at 108 for six wickets, the R. A. S. C. managed to force a draw. Sgt. Patterson made 55.

One of the women who had a previous conviction was fined $30, while the others were fined $25 each.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.

NAVY BLUES NOW AT THE QUEEN'S.

William Haines, in his new role of a "gol" in "Navy Blues," which is showing at the Queen's Theatre, gives characteristic impressions of the happy-go-lucky American blue-jacket ashore and afloat. As the handsome and irresponsible Jack Kelly, he is shown making a distinct hit with the ladies, in particular with a pretty miss, with whom subsequently he is precipitated into a near tragedy of love.

The production is well acted by all concerned, and special credit is due to Karl Dane (with whom Haines is seen in a number of merry escapades).

The film, which is very amusing, will be shown again to-day and tomorrow.

LEAGUE CRICKET.

INDIAN R.C. WIN TWO MORE MATCHES.

In both Divisions of the League, the Indian R. C. secured full points and have now established themselves in a strong position at the top of the table. In the premier Division they have ten points from a possible twelve, while the Juniors have scored the maximum number from five matches.

DIVISION I.

Making their first appearance in the League this season, the Royal Navy failed to reproduce the form of previous years and their batsmen offered little resistance to the bowling of the Indian R. C. trundlers, F. D. Pereira and A. R. Minu, who dismissed the team for 57 runs. The former took four wickets for 23 runs and the latter six for 29. Lawlett was bowling dangerously for the Navy and made the visitors fight for the runs. Six wickets fell for 40. The Indians, however, passed their opponents' total with three wickets for 30 runs. Lawlett had seven victims for 30 runs.

DIVISION II.

The Indian R. C. gave a bright display of batting in their match against the Police when they won by seven wickets. After disposing of their opponents for 107 runs they went in to make a total of 196 for the loss of five wickets. A.R.H. Esmail was undefeated with 80 to his credit, while M. Madar contributed 40 and E. Heptulla 31.

FRIENDLY MATCHES.

The surprise of the friendly matches was the defeat of the Kowloon C. C. by the Craigengower C. C. for the second time this month. The champions, who had a weak side out, went down by five wickets, their previous defeat being by eight wickets. R. Lee was mainly responsible for the victory of the Kowloon team for 14 runs. He captured six of the wickets for 14 runs, while U. M. Ong took the other four for 27 runs. The Happy Valley Club lost their first three wickets without score, but W. Patterson made a stand and eventually saw his team win the match. He contributed 41 of a total of 80. R. C. Lyle had four wickets for ten runs.

The scoring in the match on the Civil Service ground between the Valley team and the Hongkong C. C. was on the high side, over 300 runs being made for the loss of eight wickets. The visitors ran up a score of 170 for four wickets declared while the hosts replied with 161 for four wickets. H. Owen Hughes (61) retired, C. A. Wright (40), A. C. Wilson (30) and A. Reid (31) put up the score for the Hongkong C. C., while F. Richardson (67 not out) and G. H. Sayer (56) were the chief contributors for the Civil Service.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

ARMY HEAVILY DEFEATED BY THE CLUB.

Saturday's games on the Club ground at Happy Valley were clean and fast, and were played before a large number of spectators, who included Colonels Lang and Skinner.

The senior game, between the Club and the Army, saw a fine team heavily defeat a combination that was upset partly by their not knowing each other's play thoroughly and partly by the fact that those players from the 24th Foot (South Wales Borderers) had not really recovered from their lack of exercise consequent on their recent sea-trip. They showed, however, that they will prove the foundation of a strong side with more practice, and, as the Soookunpo ground is practically ready for play, they should soon produce a team that will make the Club fifteen go all the way.

The Club de Recreio beat the Craigengower C. C. at King's Park by seven wickets, after dismissing the visitors for 99 runs. G. A. Gutierrez took four wickets for five runs. The Recreio innings yielded 167 for five wickets. F. J. Remedios retired after scoring 56.

In a low scoring match the R.A.S.C. beat the Royal Corps of Signals by three wickets. The losers could only put up a total of 49 runs, Fry taking three wickets for eleven runs and Simpson three for twelve. The R. A. S. C. team reached 61 runs. Williamson took four wickets for 33 runs; Johnson three for 13 and Andrews two for four.

On Friday these two teams met at Sookunpo, the match ending in a draw. The R. A. S. C. bat first but made a bad start. Fry, however, contributed 68 in short time and with Pamplin also reaching the half century mark, the total reached 106. With their score at 108 for six wickets, the R. A. S. C. managed to force a draw. Sgt. Patterson made 55.

The junior game resulted in a win for Medway by two tries (six points) to nil. Both tries were clever solo efforts by Wilkinson, the first a dribble over the line, and the second a dribble and pick-up to run over.

UNITED STATES AND WORLD COURT.

IMPORTANT LEADERS PRESS FOR ADHERENCE.

New York, Nov. 23. Many prominent people, including General Pershing, Admiral Sims, and Mr. Lamont, the famous banker and financier, have signed a letter urging President Hoover to submit to the Senate for ratification the Protocols for adherence of the United States to the Permanent Court of International Justice.—Reuters' American Service.

The film, which is very amusing, will be shown again to-day and tomorrow.

The Cup was won by I. W. Shewan, who returned a card of 152 for the 36 holes.

In the morning he went round in 73, being one of three competitors who went round under 80 strokes, while in the afternoon he took 79 strokes, to give him the Jasper Clark Cup by five strokes under the next best, who was A. B. Stewart, with a total of 157, being 78 for the morning round and 79 for the afternoon.

THUMPING WIN BY SOUTH CHINA.

ARGYLLS BEATEN IN TEN MINUTES.

RECREIO LOSE FOR THE FIRST TIME.

ATHLETIC'S RETURN.

(By "Wanderer.")

The season is yet young, but South China are fast establishing a firm grip on the leadership of the Senior Division. Their win against the Argylls on Saturday, the eighth in a row, was little short of brilliant. The Argylls ran into a severe goalstorm at the outset and their chances of recovery were small.

South China are now the only undefeated Senior side, the Recreio losing on Saturday to the Somersets, though I should have thought it more logical, since the bulk of the fixtures are the responsibility of their successors, for the South Wales Borderers to have played this game, according to fixture.

Kowloon defeated the Artillery comfortably, while the Club came a cropper against the rejuvenated Navy team, losing seven goals.

Chinese Athletic returned to league football with three satisfactory performances. The Senior eleven defeated the Police, the second eleven scored three goals against the R.A. Reserves, and the third eleven obtained a highly creditable draw with the Somersets, leaders of the third division, after being 2-0 down at half-time. The most remarkable score of the day was credited to St. Joseph's Reserves, who obtained ten against the Recreio Reserves. The latter fielded only nine men.

SENSATIONAL SCORING.
South China's Inspiration
From a Quick Goal.

By normal standards this game between South China and the Argylls followed crazy lines.

The league leaders have never given a more brilliant display, but there was no such disparity in the run of play as the score of 7-1 would suggest. It just happened that the Argylls paid a very heavy penalty for allowing South China the inspiration of a quick goal.

Several clubs already know what that means. This was the Argylls' first lesson.

The game may be considered in truer perspective when it is noted that four of the eight goals, including that of the Argylls, were crowded into the first five minutes, while two more were obtained in the last four minutes.

In other words, the start was so sensational that within five minutes South China were leading by three goals to one. This had been increased to 4-1 by the time ten minutes had elapsed, and yet it would have merely been in harmony with what had gone before if the score at the end of ten minutes had been 6-2! Chu Kwok-luen and McKenna had missed absolute sitters and Fung King-cheong had failed with a penalty!

After this, the "madness" which had gripped the players of both sides subsided and in a period of 50 minutes South China obtained only one goal.

The inference that the Argylls did not play so badly as to deserve such a heavy defeat must be qualified. There was no semblance of a fluke about any of the goals.

South China's sixth should have been in the net long before it actually reposed there, but I have never seen so many brilliant goals obtained in a single game before. Each was the result of skilful design, in no case the result of a goalkeeper given the slightest chance, and the real surprise was that there were not half a dozen more exactly like them, mostly from South China.

Fung King-cheong was the focus of South China's brilliant forward display. He stood in a class by himself on Saturday. Unworried by close attentions, he was coolness personified, resourceful to degree, and I don't think I saw him part with the ball once except to the colleague in the best position to do something with it. Two of the goals he scored himself, and three others came directly from his perfect passes. Tam Kong-pak and Chu Kwok-luen were cart-horses by comparison, but they were always on the spot to take advantage of Fung's skilful manoeuvring, and each scored twice with fine drives. Fung was ably seconded by Chan Mee-on, who did some superb work on the right wing.

The Argylls were without Wyllie and this weakened their attack immensely, McKenna being a good enough substitute in his way, but lacking Wyllie's initiative and shooting ability. King at centre-forward from the second eleven was given few chances and did not impress beyond the "marks" he obtained for persistency. Campbell had an off day and Cannon worked exceedingly hard, to little purpose. Christie did not shine without support.

When Chu Kwok-luen flashed the ball into the net for South China's first goal, scarcely one of the Highlanders' defenders had touched the ball. The point seemed to be coming from the time Fung eluded Yeoman's tackle and when he passed to Chu, the inside-right had nothing to do but hit the ball first time. Another delightful combined movement a minute later left Tam Kong-pak in possession about 18 yards out, and a beautiful shot left Gardner helpless. Two goals in three minutes!

From the kick-off, the Argylls scored through King, but, contrary to expectation, this did not check South China's spirit. A corner was forced and Fung King-cheong headed through. Chan Mee-on added five minutes later.

The Argylls had been completely nonplussed by sheer speed up to this stage, but thereafter they began to get off the mark more effectively themselves, and the half-backs were prominent with some nice interceptions. Play continued in favour of the visitors, however, and Fung King-cheong scored—very smart work—with a terrific shot when Chu Kwok-luen's drive was charged down in the centre-forward's direction.

Facing a half-time deficit of 5-1, the Argylls made a change which stiffened the defence, Yeoman going right back, Hay stepping up to the centre-half position. Yeoman gave a remarkably fine display at back and it was largely due to his personal efforts that South China were held at bay for so long in the second half. The Argylls had their share of the play in this half, but the attack was scrappy and at no time looked genuinely dangerous, whereas any attack at the other end seemed full of possibilities. The Argylls' defence held out until four minutes from the final whistle when an exciting scrimmage enabled Chu to score from close-in after five or six shots had been saved by the goalkeeper or one of the defenders crowded in the area. Tam Kong-pak obtained the seventh with a perfect shot when he was sent through with only the goalkeeper to beat.

Gardiner played a magnificent game in the Argylls' goal. The score would have soared to almost unbelievable figures had he had an off-day. Henderson did well in the second half, but generally the defenders were beaten for pace, Yeoman alone holding his own with any consistency. Li Tin-sang and Wong Mee-shun were conspicuous in South China's defence.

NAVY ON TARGET.

Club Thoroughly Outplayed
in First Half.

The Navy demonstrated how little fluke entered into their 6-1 win against St. Joseph's the previous week, by running up seven goals without reply from the Club, who were thoroughly outplayed until some judicious defensive changes provided a steady factor.

The Club goal was peppered with shots, fell three times in the first quarter of an hour, and twice more before the interval, each of the Navy forwards getting a goal in turn, starting with the centre-forward and ending with Magee, the outside-right. Strange and Bishop were practically run off their feet, and the half-backs did not shine in their struggle against excellent combination. The Club forwards, receiving no support, had little chance to make their presence felt, though at no time did they show any considerable enterprise.

In the second half, when the Club pulled themselves together to some extent, their showing was not more than moderate and the Navy obtained the only goals scored, the wingers, Dickinson and Magee, through whom most of the Navy attacks were developed, defeating Rodger.

Tilley made a welcome reappearance in the Navy team in the centre-half-back position and he was an outstanding figure with his cool and calculating play, while Stephenson and Cartwright brought steadiness to the attack. The wingers responded to the right sort of passes magnificently, centring well, or cutting in dangerously, according to circumstances. Chicas, Dixon and Langmead did well, but their test was not a severe one.

The Club had a bad day all round, there being hardly one who could be said to have distinguished himself. The defence was loose in the first half, and their better showing after the interval might be attributed to some relaxation of effort by the opposition. Magee and Dickinson, splendidly backed up as they were, always seemed likely to outwit them. Forward there were tries, but little method.

RECREIO FAILURE.

Attack Unexpectedly Lets Them Down.

Had the Recreio forwards exhibited even a fraction of their normal finishing ability, the odds are they would have defeated the Somersets in a parting greeting. For fifty minutes after Rendle had opened the scoring for the Somersets, they caused Verrier sufficient anxiety to justify the belief that an equaliser was bound to come, but bad shooting, and occasionally bad luck, enabled the visitors to hang on to their lead, and in the closing stages they came with a rush to add a couple quickly and emerge with an undeserved 3-0 victory.

A Gosano, who was a tower of strength in the Recreio side, tried all means of steadyng his colleagues up, without success, and when he went to centre-forward position himself, he not only weakened the defence, but defeated his object by our-anxiety.

To say that the Somersets did not deserve to win 3-0, does not mean that they did not earn both points. They were a much better balanced side than their adversaries, and they had their share of bad luck also. Lawrence had plenty to occupy his mind throughout the game. Bewley-Bull and Butcher showing something more akin to their form on arrival in the Colony, while Baker and Rendle were a very lively wing. Butcher and Bewley-Bull obtained the goals which put the result beyond question.

West was in great form, and the resolute tackling of Huish and Earley was undoubtedly contributory to the failure of Silva, Ward and Roche to find their shooting boots. B. J. Gosano was generally too good for Denmond, but he too suffered from the common complaint.

Lawrence in goal, Xavier, A. Gosano and Beltrao were outstanding in the Recreio defence.

KOWLOON WIN AGAIN.

Few Anxieties Against the Artillery.

More than once in the past the Royal Artillery have carried surprises up their sleeves for Kowloon, but the mainlanders, fresh from their first victory of the season against the Argylls, were never uncomfortable in this match and might have won much more convincingly than 4-2.

Ianson, the Kowloon left-winger, gave another highly impressive display, leading McDonald and Frearson a merry dance, and obtaining the first two goals for his side. Fletcher having no chance with either. Moore obtained a smart goal soon after Ianson's first, but for the next forty minutes, the R.A. were kept for long periods on the defensive and Kowloon led 4-1 before Gill specialised his return to the R.A. side by a typical goal.

Kowloon played brisk resourceful football for the most part and Fletcher had to acquit himself well in the R.A. goal to keep the score down, particularly as Frearson was rather off colour.

Hedley obtained Kowloon's third with a great shot and the fourth was put through his own goal by Frearson from a dangerous corner-kick, placed by Meas, who while not showing up quite so well against Joyce, the best of the R.A. halves, was always a source of trouble and combined well with Simpson.

Kowloon were on top largely because of their pull at half-back and back. McElveen played a splendid constructive game, and Dowman showed some improvement in this respect. The backs were safe, covering Angus well.

The R.A. forwards may have shown to better advantage had they received equal support, but though Gill and Allen worked hard, and Moore did many clever things, there was little real cohesion and Kowloon's defenders did not have a heavy task.

Gillott led a lively Kowloon vanguard in good style, though he did not enjoy any better luck with his shooting. Hedley played with more sparkle, and the left wing was responsible for some delightfully clever movements. Simpson was a great worrier.

POLICE OUT OF LUCK.

Lose their Seventh Match of the Season.

The Athletic beat the Police 2-1 on their merits, though the visitors

THE nights are chilly. The glory of the autumn is gone and the damp drizzling foggy days of winter and early spring are here.

These chilly mornings and evenings followed, very likely, by warm days may result in coughs and colds unless you safeguard yourself against these treacherous variations in temperature.

The sure safeguard is delicious "Ovaltine" as your daily beverage. This perfect concentration of the nourishment extracted from malt milk and eggs nourishes the whole system and creates reserves of strength and vigour to resist colds and epidemic infections. It enables you to fortify yourself against the depressing humidity of summer which will come, alas, all too soon.

"Ovaltine" is complete in all the essential food elements and vitamins. Not ing could be added which would make it more perfect and complete.

which sorely troubled the Police, and gave Clarke opportunity to distinguish himself by a series of brilliant saves. In the Police attack, only Pilo struck his best form.

The Athletic were also capably served by Lai Yuk-tat at full-back and Lam Yuk-ying at centre-half.

Oram played a splendid game for the Police, taking a lot of work off the shoulders of his hard-worked backs, and giving his forwards opportunities with nicely placed kicks, though pressure was generally too great to allow him much scope for constructive play.

The Athletic indulged in storming raids before the interval and the Police defence had a gruelling time against an accomplished line. The exchanges were keenly contested, however, and sometimes extremely exciting. At one time the Athletic appeared to be weak in front of goal, but in the last ten minutes before half-time, Ho Ka-keung scored twice, nice efforts both, and made possible by superior speed.

The following team has been selected to represent the Y.M.C.A. Hockey Club against the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders at King's Park to-morrow at 5 p.m.—F. Copo; G. F. Rees; A. R. Brown; G. Mitchell; F. Allon; F. S. W. Smith; A. Tate; G. Kearns; F. R. Ashton; J. Smith; T. J. Price.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 23.

CHIANG LEAVING NANKING.

TO LEAD FORCES AGAINST "RED" BANDITS.

MUKDEN RELATIONS.

Nanking, Nov. 23.—Nanking official circles announced the probable departure tomorrow for Hankow of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, who will personally direct the military operation against the Communist bandits in Hunan, Hupeh and Kiangsi.

Marshal Chiang is known to have concluded his negotiations with General Chang Hsueh-liang concerning North China and Manchurian affairs and the re-organisation of the Kuomintang and Shansi armies. The young Manchurian ruler and his wife will leave shortly for Tientsin and Peking en route to Mukden.

An independent report says that General and Madame Chang Hsueh-liang, in the company of Mr. and Mrs. Sun Fo, intend to leave Nanking this evening on a special train which is due to arrive at Shanghai to-morrow morning. The greatest secrecy is maintained concerning his departure in view of the malicious attempt to wreck an express on the Nanking-Shanghai railway last week, believed to be an attempt on the life of the Manchurian ruler.

To facilitate official and commercial relations between Nanking and Mukden, Marshal Chiang Kai-shek and General Chang Hsueh-liang have decided to inaugurate a daily air service between the two capitals. The Nanking Government is contemplating the appointment of a number of commissioners to proceed to Hsichow and Pungtow with a view to constructing suitable aerodromes.

The exorbitant taxation and misadministration of the Kuomintang and other independent militarists in Kansu Province have had a serious effect on the trade of this vast Province, and Nanking Government has accordingly received a telegram from public bodies in Kansu urging the Central Government to dispatch a strong contingent of troops to suppress the doubtful armies and to restore peace.

LENOX SIMPSON INQUEST.

INACTION OF POLICE MENTIONED.

CONFLICTING EVIDENCE BY CHINESE SERVANTS.

MURDER VERDICT.

Conflicting evidence was given at H.M. Consular Court at Tientsin on November 14, before Mr. A. G. N. Ogden, O.B.E., H.M. Consul, sitting as Coroner, during the inquest which was held with regard to the death of Mr. Bertram Lenox Simpson who died at the Victoria Hospital the previous Tuesday night.

Evidence of identification was given by Major George A. Herbert, H.M. Vice Consul and Registrar. The next witness was Dr. J. W. M. Grice, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., who stated that on October 1, at the German-American Hospital he had a consultation there with other doctors, when he saw the deceased who was seriously injured by a wound in the back. He was completely paralysed from the middle of the chest downwards, which suggested that his spine had been seriously injured.

Special Cord Destroyed.

An X-ray photograph which was taken showed the bullet lodged in the spine. Witness looked after the deceased from that day until the time of his death. During his illness he passed through the usual stages of a man suffering from injuries to his spine.

At the request of the Coroner witness performed a post-mortem examination on the 12th instant, and found the bullet which had completely destroyed the spinal cord and was lodged in the bone of the spine. Witness then showed the bullet to the Coroner.

"Boy's" Evidence.

After evidence by Inspector P. J. Lawless, of the British Municipal Police, Mr. Simpson's No. 2 boy was called.

The Coroner:—What do you know about this incident?

Witness:—I saw three guests arrive at about 7 p.m.

The Coroner:—How were they dressed?

Witness:—One wore a black long coat with a black outer jacket, the second one wore a long light blue coat and was carrying a leather bag, and the third one, who remained outside the front door, was dressed in a Chung Sun suit. One rang the bell of the house and I then ran to the front door. I opened the door and one name card was given to me. I handed it to my master. My master was playing the gramophone in a room which was the second door from the front door. My master told me to invite them into the study. My master was walking in front of the two guests who followed him. As soon as my master entered the room I heard the shot fired.

Two Shots Fired.

The Coroner: How many?

Witness:—Two shots. After I heard the two shots I attempted to run out of the front door. One man was standing outside. At this time there was a car belonging to my master which was standing in the compound. The chauffeur who was in the car attempted to move out but the man who was on the outside of the door went up to the chauffeur. I then walked out with the two murderers following me closely. I ran to the corner of the gatekeepers' quarters and shouted for a police man. I reported the incident to the constable on duty at

A THIEF'S CANDID ADMISSION.

STOLE CLOCK AND BOOKS FROM HOTEL.

I went in to read some books, and seeing the clock lying there, I took it," said a Chinese, named Wong Ho, who pleaded guilty to the theft of a clock and three books, the property of Mr. L. G. Cotton, manager, of the Peninsula Hotel, Kowloon, before Mr. Butters, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

Detective Sergeant Poyntz said the defendant entered the library at the Peninsula Hotel at about 7.30 o'clock last night and walked away with the clock and books. He was seen removing them and was arrested.

Mr. Butters imposed sentence of two months' imprisonment.

It is advertised that the twelfth ordinary yearly meeting of the China Light & Power Co. (1916) Ltd., will take place on Monday, December 15, 1930, at 12 o'clock noon, at the Head Office of the Company, St. George's Building, the corner. The guests did not say anything.

Silent Guests.

The Coroner:—From the beginning to the end they did not say a word?

Witness:—No.

The Coroner:—When the shots were fired where were you?

Witness:—I was standing near the front door. The front door was open and I was just going to shut it when I heard the shots.

The Coroner:—Did the man outside the door attempt to stop you by holding your arms or anything of that sort?

Witness:—The man who was standing outside the door drew his pistol at me.

The Coroner:—What happened when you got to the gate? Did you shout to the police at once?

Witness:—The men were hiding at the side of the wall near the gatekeeper's.

Gate-Keeper's Story.

The next witness was the gatekeeper. He said:—A motor car drove up to the gate after 7 p.m. Three guests got out of the car, and asked if the Commissioner was in the house. I told them that he was in the house. One man said he wished to see the Commissioner. I asked them if they had a card. One of them said yes. Among the three of them only one had a card which he gave to me. I then rang the bell communicating with the house and went with them to the front door.

A few minutes later I saw the boy coming out of the house and the other three guests were following him from behind. Both the boy and the three guests went outside of the gate. The three guests got into the car and the boy was standing near the wall on the outside. The No. 2 boy then reported the matter to the police and said that his master had been shot.

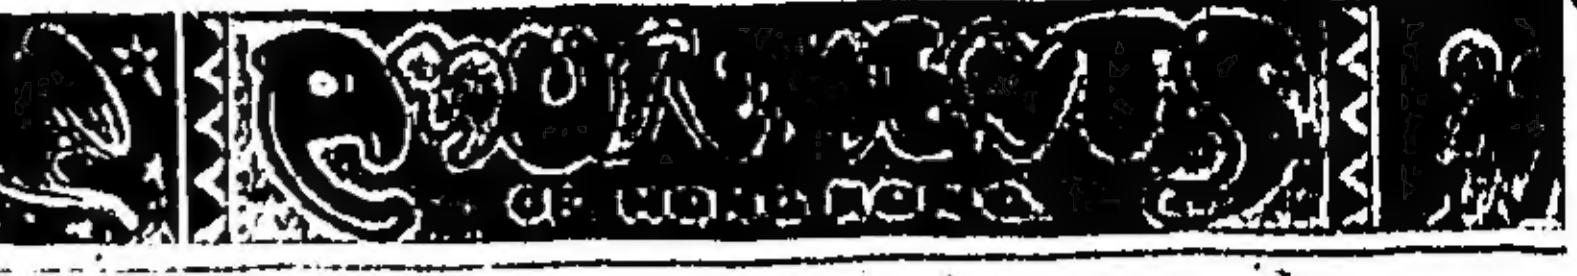

The Coroner:—Did you not know what had happened until after the one had gone?

Witness:—No, I started to shout along with the boy just as the car started to move.

Conflicting Evidence.

The Coroner:—The boy said the gate was open and not closed and that you were outside on the pavement.

Witness:—The boy told a lie. After further evidence had been heard, the Coroner gave his verdict to the effect that Bertram Lenox-Simpson was murdered by some person or persons unknown. Through the insertion of the Police of the First Special Area at the time the crime was committed, there appears to be very little hope of the apprehension of the murderer or murderers.
